

COVID-19 Outbreak

CDC is responding to a pandemic of respiratory disease spreading from person-to-person caused by a new coronavirus (COVID-19). This situation poses a serious public health risk. The federal government is working closely with state, local, tribal and territorial partners as well as public health partners to respond to this situation. COVID-19 can cause mild to severe illness. The virus, from the same family as SARS and MERS viruses, can lead to a serious form of pneumonia. As of March 25, 2020, all 50 states have reported cases of COVID-19 to CDC.

Method of Transmission

The COVID-19 appears to spread from close, person-to-person contact within about 6 feet, and probable contact with contaminated surfaces. The best way to prevent illness is to avoid being exposed to this virus. Types of transmission include:

- Air by coughing and sneezing (on droplets)
- Close personal contact
- High risk respiratory procedures such as bronchoscopies, intubation, etc.

This virus may also spread by touching contaminated objects or surfaces and then touching your mouth, nose, or eyes.

Symptoms of Infection

- Fever
- Cough
- Headache
- Stuffy Head
- Runny Nose
- Difficulty Breathing
- Shortness of Breath
- Pneumonia

U.S. COVID-19 cases include: imported cases in travelers, cases among close contacts of a known case, and community-acquired cases where the source of the infection is unknown. CDC and state and local public health laboratories are testing for the virus.
